

Policy on Indirect and Administrative Costs

Child Mind Institute, Inc, a non-profit organization, provides grants and contracts that fund only the direct costs incurred in carrying out any CMI-sponsored program. Direct costs may include administrative expenses directly attributable to the sponsored activity, in addition to equipment and other direct operating funds, as well as the salaries and fringe benefits for staff assigned to carry out the activity or contract. CMI is not able to cover any unqualified overhead or fees that are not directly related to the sponsored activity.